1. On 20 November 1951, 22 Chinese Communist economic cadres arrived in Langson and established headquarters at Ba Xa, 28 kilometers southeast of Lang Son. They are headed by HUANG Shih-hsing (黄世兴), formerly in charge of economic operations in Nanning.
2. On 26 November the group divided into two sections of eight persons each. One will operate from Lang Son to Mon Cay, while the other will cover the territory from Lang Son to Lao Kay. They will travel through their areas to study the economic situation during the past year. They are to supervise the activities of the MAO Chun economic group, which arrived in North Vietnam in May 1951 and to plan economic activity for 1952. The six cadres remaining in Ba Xa will assemble documents received from both groups for transmission to Nanning.
3. On 26 November ten additional technical cadres arrived in Lang Son to run telegraphic lines between Lang Son, Cao Bang and Lungchou. The lines, which have already been strung 19 kilometers from Lang Son, cross the forests and do not follow the former lines along the roads.
